LAST MEETING:

Since the last meeting of North York Coin Club was in the centre of the vacation and holiday period, a short meeting was held. There was no scheduled guest speaker, and the club held a discussion about various numismatic events and incidents.

Your secretary, Mr. Paul Petch spoke on an original and interesting topic, "Famous Firsts", relating to first run issues of various coin papers, and magazines. Among these were Coin World, Canada Coin News, Coins Magazine, and the first issue of the Canadian Numismatic Journal issued in 1956.

Paul quoted a few prices of choice material from ads that appeared at that time. What a change in 10 years! He also mentioned a few of the prominent people in the numismatic circle at that time.

This type of address was not only interesting and informative, but it was different, which made it all the more enjoyable. If anyone else has any suggestions on different, original, short presentations, please suggest them, as your executive may use them in future meetings.

Among the items discussed generally was a centennial project by North York Coin Club, which should be looked into before too much longer. This would be an excellent way of gaining publicity for the club and participating in Canada's Centennial.

Please think it over and give your opinions either next meeting or in September.

Mr. Safer announced Fred Bowman's new book on "Ontario Tokens" which is now available and should be a part of every Token collectors' library.
