BELIEVE IT OR NOT-- LAST MEETING MAY 23/67: 85

There were fewer members at the May 1967 meeting than there were at the club's first meeting. With this kind of attendance there are two immediate reactions: first, our bank balance drops (without our auction or raffle there is no income to offset the cost of renting the hall); and second, without the prospect of a good turnout it is impossible to book speakers.

At the rate this club is going, it will shortly be financially bankrupt and the continuance of its meetings will be impossible. Some of you may think your Editor is over-dramatizing--it would be nice if he were but unfortunately he is not!

The June meeting is being set aside for a little soul searching. If any of you members--and especially you, fellow members of the executive,-- have any ideas or solutions to the problem this club is facing, they will be most welcome. I have some thoughts and you'll see me there; I hope to see you.

IN THE SUMMER TIME

Also up for discussion is our regular annual argument--whether or not to hold meetings in July and August. In past years meetings have been held, but this year the executive is seeking permission to call a summer recess.

BRAIN TWISTER

May's question was: What is the significance of the design on the 1871 P.E.I. 1 cent piece. The answer may be found in J.E. Charlton's Standard Catalogue on page 43. He explains that the tree is an oak, sitting on an island and sheltering three small saplings. The large oak tree is Great Britain, the three saplings are the counties of the Island--Kings, Queens, and Prince.

This year the Royal Canadian Mint is joining Canada in recognizing the Centennial Year through the issuance of specimen sets. In what year was the first Canadian specimen set issued?

NEW MEMBERS

There are no new members. When was the last time you brought a prospective new member out to the club? Maybe that has something to do with it!

C.N.A. NOMINATIONS

This news is somewhat late having occurred at the April meeting: The North York Coin Club nominated E. Victor Snell, President; John J. Pittman, First Vice President; and F. C. Jewett, Ontario Director. An excellent summary of the entire executive appears on page 208 of the C.N.A. Journal for June.
